Foundation Board

The Saint Ignatius' College Foundation was established in 1989 to support the future development of the College. Since then, the Foundation has secured support from a wide range of generous individuals, families and businesses to enable the advancement of education at Ignatius and to support a number of College projects.

The support of past members of the Ignatian community has been of immeasurable value in helping to fund a number of major development projects, which now form the fabric of our Junior and Senior Schools. The Foundation, supported by the College Advancement Office, is committed to nurturing lasting relationships with our benefactors, who share the Ignatian vision for the future. Support for the College is made possible by the Foundation through the tax-deductible Building Fund and Bursary Fund. The Saint Ignatius' College Foundation is a registered, incorporated association, governed by the Associations Incorporation Act.

The Cardoner Network

The Cardoner Network is a not-for-profit organisation, which provides opportunities for young adults to serve both locally and abroad within developing and vulnerable communities.

These opportunities include:

Two Wolves Abroad

This volunteer program places young people with overseas and Indigenous Australian partner communities, fully immersing them in the daily rhythm of community life. Placement periods are available for 3, 6, or 11 months. We also offer 3 week immersion opportunities to select locations.

Bellarmino House

Inspired by the sense of community and purpose experienced during immersions and volunteer placements, this shared residential community for young adults is located in the Sydney university precinct. Residents commit to up to four volunteer hours per week to serve and engage with local communities.

For information about the Cardoner Network please contact Jane McCaffrey at j.mccaffrey@ignatius.sa.edu.au

Wolves in Action

Wolves in Action is an Adelaide-based group for young adults (18 years or older), based on self-reflection, team bonding and leadership, with aims to serve the wider community, guided by Ignatian and Catholic traditions. Involvement in the group leads to many opportunities for personal growth, and strong friendships to form as well as being of service to the wider community.
